Probe Started Into Fireworks Factory Blast That Killed 10

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP)—A welcome quiet settled over this Maryland town today in the wake of a series of explosions that wrecked a fireworks and munition plant and left at least 10 dead and one missing.

Five of the more than 50 others injured remained hospitalized.

Army, FBI and company officials sought the exact cause of the blasts and took precautions against further explosions.

National Guardsmen patrolled the streets and stood guard at the armory, converted to an emergency morgue, where the remains of 10 victims were bundled in blankets, most no bigger than overnight bags.

Six Identified

Six of these bundles had been identified through watches, rings, keys or by other means as five women and a man who had worked on assembly line putting together firecrackers, detonator fuses and Army training shells.

One was Mrs. Eva L. Fisher, 65-year-old mother of eight children. Another was Nelson Lord, 21-year-old bridegroom of three weeks.

The others were Mrs. Mary E. Fallowfield, 64, wife of a barber and town councilman; Mrs. Nellie Starr, 47, Mrs. Lina Mae Taylor, 41; and Mrs. Magdalene Seiler, 57, of Henderson, Md.

Five other women were listed by their families as missing but it was probable the names of four unidentified bundles on the armory floor. Remains of the 11th victim apparently were still buried somewhere in the maze of smoldering litter that had once been part of eight main buildings and 22 smaller structures destroyed.

Jets Crossed Plant

While the rumor persisted that two jet planes seen flying over the plant seconds before had touched off the blaze by jarring the highly sensitive lead azide, a nitro-glycerine compound used in detonator fuses, authorities discounted the possibility.

Col. Harry S. Russell, Chestertown Civil Defense director and plant officials said "survivors know exactly which machine (the blast) started on" in Building B, the first to blow sky high.

Mayor Phillip G. Wilmer, who is also president of the company, shared the opinion the jets had nothing to do with the blast.

However, Fire Chief Alex Herzberg said he was investigating the cause.

Offer Cleveland Police For Probe

No New Clues Found In Sheppard Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze offered today to have the Cleveland Police department take over investigation of the two-week-old Marilyn Sheppard murder mystery.

Suburban Bay Village and Cuyahoga County sheriff's deputies have been handling the case.

The mayor said the city's experienced, well-equipped homicide bureau would try to crack the baffling slaying "if asked by responsible officials and if we were given complete charge."

Mrs. Sheppard, 31, attractive wife of a wealthy osteopath, was beaten to death in a bedroom of her home in suburban Bay Village, and her husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, 30, has told police he fought her assailant and was injured by him. No weapon has been recovered and no very helpful clues have been turned up since the crime was committed about 4 a. m. July 4.

Invite Pathologist

County authorities yesterday invited into the case Dr. Alan R. Moritz, one of the world's outstanding medicolegal experts and director of Western Reserve University's school of pathology. He has been consultant in dozens of major crime cases, is chairman of the American Medical Assn.'s medicolegal problems groups, and has written a textbook: "The Pathology of Trauma." While teaching at Harvard, he took part in more than 1,200 autopsies.

There were these other developments:

A Vermilion, Ohio, woman reported a tall, bushy-haired man—ticketless and nervous—boarded a Baltimore-bound bus near the Sheppard home early July 4. Sheppard has described the intruder in his home as tall and bushy haired.

Names Suspects

Sheppard told a reporter he had given "to proper authorities" names of "several suspects" he thought might be insane and who may have been admiring his pretty wife.

Authorities continued to hold a 23-year-old divorcee, Mrs. Jessie M. Dill, as a material witness but said they hadn't come to any conclusions about her story.

She volunteered information to them yesterday. Officers didn't elaborate on what she said, but said most of her story could have come from reading Cleveland newspapers.

However, according to Sgt. Jay Huback of the Bay Village police department, Mrs. Dill came out with some things that had "not been published and we consider it important enough to hold her as a material witness until we can check it."

Earlier, she told reporters she met a woman answering Mrs. Sheppard's description at nearby Fairport Harbor June 14. That woman, Mrs. Dill said, appeared nervous and confided several intimate secrets to her.

Large Crowd Expected At Derby Sunday

Several thousand spectators are expected to line Damascus Road, Blackburn Hill tomorrow afternoon for the third annual Salem Soap Box Derby.

The race, which will get underway at 2, will be preceded at 1 by a parade on S. Broadway to State St. and then west on State to the Georgetown Road.

About 50 Salem and district boys are ready to race for more than $1,000 in cash, bonds and merchandise awards. The winner here will represent the city at the national derby in Akron in August against the champions of 150 other cities in the U.S., Canada and West Germany.

Winner of the first Salem derby in 1952 was John McKibbin of Boardman and winner last year was Tom Gualtieri of Wellsville. With several improved cars in the race this year, Salem entrants are hopeful of taking home the top prizes.

Parking is available in the derby area. Damascus road will be closed at 8 a. m. Sunday from the Georgetown Road to Damascus for all cars except those heading to the derby.

Refreshments will be sold at the race.

Reenlistment Bonus For Services Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Force sergeant completing a four-year hitch will be $516 richer, and a private first class $372, for signing up for another four years under the new armed services reenlistment bonus law.

The old law offered $160 to each, and military leaders said the bonus wasn't big enough to keep good men from being drained off to civilian pursuits—especially in the higher grades where well-trained career men are a particular asset.

President Eisenhower signed the new Congress-approved legislation yesterday.

2 Armed Men Held After Patrol Chase

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—The state highway patrol post at nearby Hebron today investigated two armed men captured after a chase involving aircraft, a boat and highway patrol cars.

The patrol did not identify the men, and patrolmen were unable to say whether the two had been involved in any crime.

The chase started after a Franklin County auto service station attendant reported two men who "acted suspiciously" yesterday.

After being spotted by a patrol cruiser, the two abandoned a car bearing what the patrol said apparently was a privately made license tag. The tag carried no state name.

The two were taken across Buckeye Lake in a private boat, patrol officers learned, so they borrowed a boat and followed.

A patrol plane and a private plane went aloft to join the search.

A Thornville marshal and Troop Two, constable captured the pair at Bumquat Landing, a mile west of Thornport, and turned them over to the highway patrol.

The patrol said the two carried a .38 caliber automatic and a .22 caliber automatic.

One of the men, who said he was from Dayton, told officers he had been hitchhiking east from Indiana. The other claimed to be from Gloucester, Mass. Police released no other details.

Dentist Acquitted In Slaying Of Wife's Admirer

Ruled Insane At Time Of Shooting Of New York Playboy

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP)—The love-triangle murder case against Dr. Kenneth B. Small, Detroit dentist who killed his pretty wife's admirer, ended in a dramatic verdict of acquittal by reason of insanity early today.

An Allegan County Circuit Court jury of 11 men and one woman returned its verdict at 1:40 a. m. EST after five hours four minutes of deliberation.

Women spectators screamed. Others applauded. Some women kissed Dr. Small.

The verdict, in effect, held that Dr. Small, 31, society dentist, was not mentally responsible when he shot and killed Jules M. Lack, 45, New York playboy-industrialist, at a swank summer cottage near here last Memorial Day weekend.

At the time Small's brunette wife, Edith, 30, mother of three boys, was a guest with Lack at a house party. The husband had trailed her to the cottage after becoming suspicious of her story she was with a woman friend in Chicago.

As the verdict was about to be read, Dr. Small sat quietly. His eyes were closed. It appeared he might have been praying.

At the "not guilty" declaration, he looked behind him to smile at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Small.

Friends rushed to his side to clasp his hand.

Mrs. Small was not in the courtroom at the time of the verdict.

10 Minutes Of Noise

Judge Raymond L. Smith required some moments to restore order. It was 10 minutes before the spectators quieted.

Michigan law requires that Dr. Small be kept in a state hospital until the state decides that he is sane, or insane. This means he could be released at an early date, or never.

On petition of Defense Counsel Leo Hoffman the court granted a week's stay of the commitment order pending a plea for a writ of habeas corpus. Prosecutor Dwight M. Chever had asked immediate commitment.

Dr. Small was returned to jail pending obtaining of the writ.

The jury had a choice among four verdicts—guilty of first degree murder as charged, or guilty of second degree murder, manslaughter, or innocent by reason of insanity.

Had Dr. Small been convicted of first degree murder, he would have been sent to prison for life. This would have been mandatory under the law.

A stark story of family tragedy came out in the five days of emotion-laden court testimony.

Until the pretty and gay Edith met Lack on her Florida vacation with her three sons last March, the Smalls to all appearances were the happiest of families.

Neighbors so related, telling of the fondness of the couple for each other and their children.

Then the infatuation of Mrs. Small for the "other man" intruded.

On the witness stand Mrs. Small,

Asks Censure Of McCarthy

Flanders Drops Try To Curb Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said today the Senate's handling of his demand for a vote of censure against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) will test its "political morality."

Flanders yesterday announced he was abandoning efforts to get the Senate to fire McCarthy from committee chairmanships.

He said he would offer on Tuesday instead, a resolution which would place the Senate on record as declaring McCarthy's conduct as chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee "is hereby condemned" as unbecoming a senator.

To Seek Early Vote

Flanders said he will seek an immediate vote on it Tuesday—the same day McCarthy faces a threatened showdown with subcommittee members seeking to force a shakeup of his staff appointments.

McCarthy, watching his bubbling troubles on both fronts, said he feels "no concern" about Flanders' new move, and told reporters that "as far as I'm concerned" it will be all right for his subcommittee to bring the staff problem to a head at its closed door meeting Tuesday.

He had blocked a staff shakeup move by Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) Thursday by throwing out as invalid the proxy vote of the absent Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.). McClellan's vote, with that of the two subcommittee Democrats present, would have given Potter's motion a majority on the seven-man group.

Call Off Hearings

The Senate GOP leadership, clearly unhappy about the whole business of fights involving McCarthy, cracked down yesterday on his plan to launch public hearings in Boston today to explore his charges of Communist infiltrations of defense plants. Majority Leader Knowland of California said he didn't want any committee meeting outside Washington with the Senate holding a session here today.

McCarthy cancelled the Boston hearings, and said he would hold the hearings in Washington instead, on Monday and Tuesday.

FBI Probing Attempt To Bribe Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Rees (R-Kan.) said today the House Post Office Committee would "leave to the FBI" an investigation of a reported attempt to bribe a member of the committee.

Rees declared himself "stunned" by the report, but said he planned no independent inquiry because "it's a matter for the Department of Justice."

Atty. Gen. Brownell late yesterday verified widely circulated rumors that the FBI was looking into a report that a committee member had been approached in a purported attempt to influence his vote on legislation to raise the pay of postal workers.

Brownell told newsmen the report was made by Rep. Broyhill, Virginia Republican and wealthy building contractor of nearby Arlington, Va.

According to the report to the FBI, the alleged bribe attempt was in the form of an offer of a $500 campaign contribution. Broyhill is seeking reelection this year.

Neither Brownell nor Broyhill would say who made the alleged offer, who received it, or when it took place. Broyhill is a committee member.

The heads of two AFL unions which have been seeking a pay raise for postal workers both denounced the reported overture.

Leo E. George, president of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, termed it "so reprehensible that it is impossible to believe" and urged a full investigation.

William C. Doherty, president of the National Assn. of Letter Carriers, called it "preposterous—unthinkable."

Russian Arctic Posts Revealed

'Scientific Stations' Built On Ice Islands

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians disclosed today they are maintaining "scientific stations" on two floating ice islands in the polar region north and northwest of Alaska.

The Soviet News Agency Tas said teams on the icefloes are taking depth measurements of the Arctic Ocean, studying atmospheric conditions and making geological surveys of the seabed. The scientists were flown to their drifting bases last spring and are being supplied by helicopters.

100 Miles From Pole

Tas said one of the stations is north Alaska and within 100 miles of the North Pole.

The other is above Siberia and about 500 miles northwest of Point Barrow, Alaska. It is 650 miles from the pole.

The report said the Arctic teams are living in tents and prefabricated houses heated with coal and gas. Fresh vegetables, letters, packages and newspapers are being flown to them regularly.

The bases were said to be equipped with tractors, motor cars and windmills. Their radio stations are keeping regular contact with the Soviet mainland.

Headed By Scientists

The stations are under the command of two specialists in geographical science.

So far extensive research has been carried on in the central Arctic near the North Pole, the submerged Lomonosov Mountains and the continental shelf of the Chukotsk Sea, it was said.

Western observers looked on the establishment of the icefloes bases as another move in the Soviet-U.S. contest for supremacy in the Arctic—the shortest air route between Russia and North America.

Indo States Hope For U.S. Help In Tough Bargaining

Mendes-France, Eden Wrangle Fruitlessly With V. M. Molotov

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith arrived by plane today to strengthen France's hand in the rough bargaining for peace in Indochina.

The U.S. diplomat, returning to head the delegation he left four weeks ago, was greeted by members of all the non-Communist delegations.

Significantly, the delegations of the three Associated States of Indochina, Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos, were represented at the airport by the heads of their delegations. The three states are counting heavily on the influence of the United States to save them from submission to excessive Communist demands in the impending armistice negotiations.

To Confer With Smith

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden arranged to confer with Smith after his arrival.

Gloom spread over the conference last night after Mendes-France and Eden spent three apparently fruitless hours wrangling with Russia's V. M. Molotov over differences blocking a truce agreement.

One authoritative source said there had been "no progress at all on any of the real issues."

It was Mendes-France's second abortive parley with Molotov in 24 hours. Earlier the Reds had boasted Western hopes they were ready to compromise and allow the French premier to win his dramatic race to end the Indochina War. The French premier has promised to resign if he doesn't achieve a ceasefire agreement by July 20.

Although western diplomats now are less optimistic about chances for a truce they think the Reds might still come around before the deadline date.

Informants said Mendes-France last night handed Molotov the first

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT FEALE

Change Your Thoughts, Change Your Life

"I really believe the reason many people are not well is that they are being poisoned by a continuous succession of small thoughts," said a well known physician.

I had never heard it put quite that way before and was impressed by the remark.

The doctor went on to say that he was putting less and less medicine in the mouths of his patients and giving them more and more "medicine" by way of the eyes and the ears in the whole thing, it was all the form of positive and creative thinking. "Much human illness," he continued, "begins in the mind and is the result of the way we think."

He illustrated his point with a story about a man who had bought some new shirts with French cuffs, the kind you fasten with cufflinks. And someone gave the man a beautiful set of cufflinks. But the links always seemed to disappear just when he wanted to wear his shirts with the French cuffs.

This exasperated the man and he would shout at his wife and blame her because she didn't keep things in their proper place. This in turn upset her and she retorted with accusations of her own. This foolish quarrel led to one thing and another, and finally they were in the divorce courts.

MOREOVER, the man had become a problem for his physician. But, when they got to the bottom

Winona

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berger were recent hosts to the Farm Forum Council. There were 28 in attendance including six guests.

The group voted a donation for the new building to be erected at the county fair grounds for cattle judging.

There was a discussion on "How Shall We Pay for Government." The August meeting will meet at Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Baunach's home.

There were 23 present when the W.S.C.S. met with Mrs. Lowell Whinery recently. President Mrs. Donald Dusenberry presided. Mrs. Thomas Pike conducted the worship service and Mrs. Howard Bailey was in charge of a program entitled "Know Your Neighbors." Mrs. Arthur Loudon was in charge of recreation.

Delegates plan to attend the Bethesda School of Missions Aug. 8-12. There will be no regular August meeting as members plan to attend Spiritual Life Day at Camp Aldersgate Aug. 3.

Lawrence Evans of Akron visited his mother, Mrs. Anna Evans, here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sears of Bainesville were guests in the Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Oliphant home.

Mrs. Lawrence Osborn and Donald of Costa Rica were Tuesday visitors in the John Stewart and Roscoe Stanley homes.

Among the local people who attended the Youngstown Christ Mission Auxiliary picnic held at the children's camp on the Leffingwell Road were Mrs. Sina Megrill, Mrs. Roscoe Stanley, Mrs. Wilmer Satterthwaite, Misses Gladys Satterthwaite and Melva Outland and Mrs. E. C. Holloway.

The Winona Farm Council met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gamble recently. Mr. Gamble presided. Mrs. Gamble led the devotions. The members voted to send a CARE Hospital package, and to make a donation to the new building to be erected at the county fair grounds. Wilmer Satterthwaite led the discussion on "How Shall We Pay for Government."

Wilmer Satterthwaite was appointed to make plans for a day's trip to be taken by the council members and families. The next meeting is set for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Satterthwaite.

French cuffs. He had destroyed his marriage and himself by unimportant puny thoughts which he had allowed to become magnified into tremendous conflicts.

It is this kind of thing," my doctor friend told me, "that takes happiness and well-being from life. A cure is to fill our minds daily with big and creative thoughts."

And what do we mean by big thoughts? It's just as simple, for example, as to go out and look up at the sky. That vastness of blue by day, and star-studded, moon-bathed canopy by night is a constant reminder of the things that are eternal, the things that remain, while men and their petty problems come and go.

HOW WELL EMERSON expressed it when he wrote, "The sky is the daily bread of the soul."

So if someone says something that annoys and irritates you, look up at the sky and bring its big-ness down into your mind. Practice thinking on a big scale, about the world and its problems instead of your own small concerns. Think big thoughts of charity, good will and forgiveness. Cram the mind with hopefulness and faith.

Life can be either a great experience for us or a small one, depending on the quality and character of the thoughts we think. When you change your thoughts from petty, minor ones to enlarged ideas, you will make of yourself a bigger and better person. It is immense and almost unbelievable, the power of the uplifted thought. As the famous psychologist, William James, said, "The greatest discovery of my generation is that human beings can alter their lives by altering their attitudes of mind."

CREATIVE THINKING can give you a perpetual source of mental, spiritual and physical rejuvenation. It can give you a sense of tingling good health. It can make possible a fresh and delightful and eager appreciation of life and its constructive opportunities, which is characteristic of those who have changed their lives by changing their thoughts.

Where can you find these new thoughts. You can find them in association with alive, alert and stimulating people. But, best of all, you can find these great thoughts in one book, which is a treasure chest of the most creative thoughts of all time.

That book is, of course, the Bible, and in its pages there is a wealth of ideas that have changed not only men's lives, but indeed the whole course of human history. Get the habit of reading and studying it, and so begin to change your thoughts and change your life.

'OH, FOR PEACE AND QUIET!'

Whether you are a businessman or a housewife, a fellow who makes the wheels go 'round, or a woman in industry, there come times when you long for peace and quiet.

You'll find quiet in woods like these, but not a silence. The wind whispers through the trees. Birds murmur softly. Insects squeak tunelessly. The soft lap-lap of water against the shore is like distant drumbeats. There is infinite peace, but never silence.

Much closer to you is another haven of peace—your church. Here too you will find quiet, but no dead, spiritless silence.

Instead you will find relief from your worries, and inspiration to keep doing your best. You will find the friendliness of others like you seeking inspiration in these troubled times.

For the peace and quiet that will carry you serenely through the week, go to Church Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ohio's Famous Formula

When Gov. Lausche made news at the Governors Conference with a proposal for spending Ohio's surplus income on parks, lakes and recreational facilities, he reopened an old wound in Buckeye politics.

Ohio's surplus income this year, as in all years since 1935, when the retail sales tax went into effect, is the result of a famous formula: Underestimate revenue from the sales tax and pile up the resulting surplus.

This is the way the state has balanced its budget with something to spare. It is the way Ohio governors have won a reputation for financial prudence. The retail sales tax has been productive beyond the wildest dreams of its originators, especially when it was combined with inflation and war booms.

But there has been a catch to this accumulation of surplus—and it has been increasingly hard to bear as municipal income kept falling behind municipal spending.

The sales tax was passed originally to give Ohio cities and other units of local government a substitute for real estate revenue lost by adoption of the 10-mill limit. But thereafter the cities found themselves whistling for their fair share of the money. Instead of sharing in the bonanza, they were restricted to what they could collect under a formula developed by a farmer-dominated legislature.

Meanwhile, the state of Ohio piled up surpluses. Ohio Municipal League estimates these have totaled 282 million dollars since 1941—all from sales tax receipts in excess of estimated income. "This practice," says the Municipal League, "obviously results in requiring local governments to raise more taxes while the state used the funds intended for local government."

If Ohio is going to have a surplus of perhaps as much as 40 million dollars to spread around before it's time for the legislature to swallow the next underestimate of sales tax revenue, most of the money should go to the cities, where most of it was obtained in the first place.

Security From Subversion

Least likely of the Eisenhower administration's recommendations to get under the legislative wire before Congress adjourns is its anti-subversion program.

This is composed of proposals for putting sharper teeth into ways and means of keeping subversives on the defensive. One proposal would call for forfeiture of citizenship by subversives, another for the death penalty for peacetime spies, another for authority to use wire-tapped information as evidence and another for immunity from prosecution by witnesses who now must rely on the fifth amendment to the Constitution to keep from testifying against themselves.

The reason for the dim prospect of enactment for these measures is the wide variance of opinion on their merits among representatives and senators. Although all members of Congress may be assumed to have an equal interest in security from subversion, most members of Congress at the present time have broad reservations about security proposals that might backfire if adopted.

A recent proposal in the House of Representatives calls for setting up a study commission of 12 members to make recommendations for future action on security from subversion in industry. This has been getting favorable attention from congressmen who feel that security from subversion calls for a more systematic approach than has been made so far.

No one questions the need for anti-subversion laws. The threat from the Communist conspiracy is no longer debatable. But the laws, when adopted, should be comprehensive and fool-proof. Otherwise, they would have no effect other than to create a false sense of security.

Budget Trimming

While observers are keeping score on pledges kept or broken by the Eisenhower administration, it should be pointed out that the budget requests made this year and the appropriations of the second session of the 83rd Congress have followed a downward trend.

President Eisenhower asked for 44.7 billion dollars last January. Congress has appropriated 43.2 billion, cutting the requested total by 1.5 billion. One or two items remain to be acted on, but the totals are an accurate reflection of the budget-trimming trend in Washington.

To go back a little, it should be remembered that President Truman had asked for 68.6 billion dollars in the budget message he delivered before Eisenhower became president in January, 1952. This was trimmed by the new administration to 59.1 billion in a revised budget message. Congress wound up by appropriating 54.5 billion, a cut of 4.5 billion in Eisenhower's figure and a cut in Truman's request of 14 billion.

We'd have cleaner public parks if the theory of so many picnicers wasn't that every little bit helps.

Value Of McCarthy Tactics Pointed Up By Wilson

Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense, is a man of candor. He has just made a statement to the Senate Armed Services Committee which tells more than all the days of the television hearings in the McCarthy-Stevens feud ever did about the dangers of Communist infiltration that face all the armed services and defense plants.

Evidently American public opinion has not yet been sufficiently aroused on this issue and there has not been enough pointing up of the whole situation in defense plants by congressional committee investigations because Sen. Langer of the Senate Judiciary Committee has not yet felt obligated to report to the Senate a bill that is aimed at subversives in the defense plants. Secretary Wilson says a low of that kind is badly needed.

Wilson says, with reference to Communists who are working in defense plants, that while those engaged in secret work can be fired, there is no way to enable private contractors to prevent them from working in other parts of the same plant and maintaining personal contacts with those who do work on secret projects.

The head of the Department of Defense says in his prepared statement:

"In my opinion we do not have sufficient legal authority to fully protect all industries vital to national defense from the danger of subversives and security risks. We hope that the legislation that has been proposed to take care of an important part of this problem will receive the consideration we are sure it deserves."

SEN. SALTONSTALL, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, told Wilson "it might be proper" for Wilson to urge Sen. Langer to get the Judiciary Committee of the Senate to act speedily on it.

When Assistant General Counsel Stempier of the Defense Department, who also testified before the Armed Services Committee, was asked about this lack of authority, he said that "a fairly large number" of subversives are known to be working in defense plants. But nothing can be done about it until a new law is obtained.

So it is apparent now that, after all, the "let the FBI do it" doctrine doesn't cover cases like this at all.

Incidentally, this is precisely the point that Sen. McCarthy has been making — namely, that his congressional committee was exposing the presence of such subversives and making an issue of it before the American people when someone in the administration with less sense than emotion succeeded in forcing a suspension of the regular work of the committee in order to deal with the charges about a loyal American, an anti-Communist who happened to be drafted for army service and who, like thousands of others in past years, had someone on Capitol Hill try to get him a commission in the Army.

Speaking of commissions, the secretary of defense in his formal statement has conceded that Maj. Peress should never have been commissioned and that the case was badly handled. He says: "A study of the Peress case indicated, among other things, that the undesirable result were due, in part at least, to lack of correlation of information in security cases."

WILSON TELLS of a new order, issued by him on April 8, 1954, which requires that "personal records and all investigative records in regard to the security of personnel not now effectively correlated shall be correlated without delay in each of the military departments to insure that full faces are available for prompt and fair administration of all personnel matters."

Wilson then adds significantly: "I have asked the assistant secretary of the army to tell this committee what action has been taken to carry this out and to avoid as far as humanly possible a repetition of what occurred in the Peress case."

Wilson goes somewhat further in emphasizing what the public furor over subversives in the armed services has led to when he says: "As I reported to you at our last meeting (March 1, 1954), we have taken more effective steps not only to rid the services of undesirable security risks who might be found in the armed forces but also to block off at all points the entry of such persons into the military services."

THE DEFENSE Department secretary sums up what really might well be described as the value of the exposures made during the last several months by Sen. McCarthy's committee on governmental operations. Wilson says:

"Aside from these specific actions, which I have outlined above, there is another result which I think is perhaps the most important one. That is a revitalization of the entire Department from the top echelons down with respect to strengthening, accelerating, and making more effective our machinery to protect the security of the nation within the Department of Defense."

It will be conceded, therefore, by all fair-minded persons who are not interested in political combat or in personality prejudices but in stamping out Communist agents, sympathizers and fellow travelers from the government, that only by the fullest publicity and immunity from libel prosecutions — which a congressional committee is privileged to get — can public opinion be sufficiently informed on all these delicate issues affecting the security of the United States.

Antidote For Nicotine

FENA less and beneficial elixir; milk is the supreme antidote for excessive nicotine.

A two-pints-of-milk-a-day clause, in fact, should be incorporated in every executive's contract if the firm wishes to retain his services until the proper age for retirement, the diet expert indicated.

The Austrians want to discover the "fatigue" rates in different areas—big cities, country districts, flat areas, Alpine terrain—and to discover the symptoms and causes of the sickness.

Prof. W. Halden, a leading Austrian expert on diet problems, said recently that men and women in exacting and responsible posts, who are required to make snap decisions with far-reaching consequences entirely on their own initiative, are particularly susceptible to this "typically 20th Century malady."

Overstrained nerves, the professor declared, and too many drugs in the form of liquor and tobacco, combined with bad dietary habits, are the main symptoms of managerial fatigue. The disability leads to rapid deterioration in bodily and mental health of "individuals who have reached a early middle age," and it can compel premature retirement or even premature death, Halden added.

In West Germany, government officials and the press also are concerned over statistics showing that many German industrialists and businessmen are "killing themselves with overwork."

The newspaper, "Frankfurt Abendpost," is conducting an inquiry into Germany's onslaught of managerial sickness.

Austrian biologists believe that one of the chief symptoms of this form of fatigue is arteriosclerosis. This is a hardening of the arteries brought on by eating too many fatty dishes, Halden explained.

The professor advises all important executives who have reached middle age to avoid eating rich foods containing a lot of starch and sugar, and above all to drink plenty of milk.

Milk appears to be a kind of panacea for managerial fatigue. It is, said the professor, an effective neutralizer of the "drug symptoms" of too much strong black coffee; milk will turn the most potent cocktail into a milk, harm-

Power Problem Wisecracks

By RAYMOND MOLEY

SACRAMENTO, Cal. I have two newspaper clippings, one of which I found in an Oregon paper, and the other in a California paper in the course of a trip I have taken down the coast from the Northwest.

The first is an account of an interview given by Adlai Stevenson on Saturday, July 3 in Portland. The second is an account of a speech that he made at a Democratic rally in Eugene on July 10. There were stories in the newspapers about him between those dates, well illustrated by Adlai fishing, sitting, crossing streams on logs, and in other positions indicating something less than a serious exercise in mastering the problems of state.

In fact, his one quip in the interview was: "To the victor belongs the spoils." This was supposed to mean that it has been Eisenhower who has been working since November, 1952.

There are some who would be captious enough to question this inference concerning the victor. There can be little doubt about the easy life of the loser—especially after an examination of the two clippings to which I have referred.

IN HIS INTERVIEW on the 3rd, Stevenson said that he intended to take advantage of his visit to Oregon "to learn something about both sides of the power question."

He gave assurance that he would learn enough before his speech six days later to offer some important conclusions for the guidance of the country and his party, and for the winner of the 1952 elections who has been struggling with the matter ever since.

Presumably, Stevenson's instructor in the promised seminar was Richard L. Neuberger, who is candidate for the seat now held by Sen. Cordon. Of course, Neuberger is committed to one side of the question, but that apparently would make him the ideal instructor in this instance.

So, on the 10th, Stevenson drew his conclusions. They were a denunciation of the President's power policies.

Five days of fishing, sitting and crossing streams on logs convinced him that the Eisenhower administration was moving "with men-the first automobile trip I ever made was 120 miles in a three-quarter-ton Reo truck in the early twenties. Up to that time, my touring had been limited to quick trips in and out of town.

There was no way to get any information about the roads for the 120-mile trip, and they proved to be horrible beyond description. It rained all day. Twice, it was necessary to rout out a farmer with a team of horses to pull the truck out of a ditch. Hard surfaced roads at that time consisted of water-bound macadam in the open country, brick in the towns. Gravel and clay roads were the rule, not the exception.

The 120 miles — 60 going and 60 coming — took all day and far into the night. Gasoline was a problem. Every time another vehicle was met head-on, one driver or the other had "to lay over." Roads were surfaced for only one car width; the other half was unimproved.

Yet, this was one of the heavily traveled routes of its day. A third of a century later it is still one of the most intensively used public roads in the United States although with many stretches of inadequate width and quality for modern traffic.

We think about it whenever we read another description of the toll roads which apparently are going to be the most satisfactory solution to the problem raised by high-speed "automation." The problem is how to bring highways abreast of automobiles, the engineering marvels of the 20th century.

Next to toll roads, the next best solution to the problem is going to be the freeway — the cream of the public roads. After the freeway will be the main federal and state routes, some of them serving as alternatives to the toll roads of all political decisions.

Below these will be all other roads — secondary state roads, county roads, township roads and so on down the list to the poorest of the local roads. And these last will be an improvement over most interstate highways as recently as a third of a century ago.

It is comforting to think of his whenever some public figure jumps into the news with a provocative blast about highways — that velts secured the passage of the famous Reclamation Act. For the remainder of his life, in speeches, articles, and books, he claimed political credit for himself and, at times, for his party.

HOOPER, WHO as an engineer knows more about this problem than any other public figure in our time, worked out in his biggest project, at Hoover Dam, an excellent partnership plan. Hoover himself immediately pointed out that Stevenson in three specific instances grossly misstated the facts concerning the Hoover policies.

It would have required only a scanning of the record to have avoided this injustice. The fact is that Hoover, in a speech in 1926 in Seattle, foreshadowed the whole idea of basin development.

TR's Democratic cousin, FDR, went along with George Norris and Harold Ickes far toward the socialization of all power.

Now Eisenhower is trying to restore some local responsibility and an equitable carrying of the burden.

This problem cannot be solved by slogans or wisecracks. That salient fact Adlai failed to learn on his vacation.

What's The Rush

By TRUMAN TWILL

In such a relatively short time so much has been done that would have been considered impossible at the outset.

Sometimes, some of the itchy-twitchy people in this itchy-twitchy country seem to have the notion that everything can be made perfect in one lifetime. They talk as if they wanted to bulldoze everything flat, cover it with a slab of concrete, put civilization on motor-driven roller skates and call it a day.

Give the boys a little more time. Give the taxpayers and consumers who ultimately must sweat out and grunt through every dollar of expenditure a chance to catch their breath. Actually, everybody now seems to be getting where he is going in plenty of time—and some get there a little sooner than they expected to, rest their souls. What's the rush?

The Martini Policy

Washington has come out with a firm dry martini policy, and this column has been checking on reports from this week's cocktail parties for signs of approval or disapproval. The GOP platform was wholly silent on the martini. It a stronger position. Nevertheless, certain martini factions are claiming a victory through the recent official ruling that bottled martini cocktails may be made on a ratio of five parts of gin to one vermouth instead of three-to-one as previously stipulated.

It is merely required that the five-to-one bottle be so labelled, just as is required of anything else in the category of high explosives and mystery weapons.

Dry martini drinkers are a hardy group and have been raising the gin content for some time. There are even six-to-one and seven-to-one martini faddists. We hear they were threatening to go over to the Democratic party in a body because of he old three-to-one regulation, and that the Republican administration had to act.

The Democrats have not openly promised voters a more elastic martini policy, but it is known that they feel anything the Republicans do is too conservative. There are some Democratic leaders, however, who think the way is wide open for a return to power if they better the five-to-one ratio and top this by party planks promising to restore the man-size beer and pledging the abolition of the measuring glass balls and cocktails.

Smart politicians say there is more resentment widely used for rye or scotch in all high-ment in the breasts of American voters because of the eye-dropper and demitasse trend on matters affecting the general public.

Just now the martini is the main issue, however. We hold that the government should take some action to go hand in hand with the higher calibre dry martini. As, for instance, federal regulations requiring iron railings behind all department windows, ropes around the more delicately constructed furniture and thicker padding under the rugs. (A good many five-to-one martini consumers are complaining of head injuries.)

There is a belief, too, that the ratio of cops at extra dry martini parties should be set at about five cops per guest instead of four as at present.

We just talked with our martini correspondent, Elmer Twitchell, about the new revenue department ruling. He had attended an official party at the martini testing grounds. "How did the five-to-one experiment go?" we asked. "Dine and fandy," he replied "Swunnerful. Bikini Island destroyed, but I'm in good shape."

"Are you sure?" we asked. "Who?" replied Mr. Twitchell, with a conclusive gesture.

In his decision to run for an election on an all-out stand against Joe McCarthy, Sen. Case of New Jersey may be demonstrating that he has the longest neck in Washington.

New York won't be the same without its annual flower show next spring.—It was always part of our physical training to go to the flower show and test our own in the physical requirements demanded when trying to get to a formal rose garden against the frenzied opposition of the opposite sex. A man didn't know what it meant to get knocked around and all beat up until he had tried to hold his own against the embattled women's flower clubs in a flower show rush. We favor holding it somewhere. How about Stillman's gym?

New York has been seeing one of the new "Talco" trains which, because of their lightness and low center of gravity, are capable of great speed on our railroads. This one was shown by Pat McGinnis, new head of the New Haven Road, and it also is favored by Robert Young. Both boys say it can beat all speed records taking the sharp curves around an old board of directors, but won't say how many proxies it burns to the mile. Hey, Pat and Bob, how fast can the new train go in passing between two given passed dividends?

Plan Ground Observer Corps

Water Conservation Is Urged By Board

COLUMBIANA — Establishment of a ground observer corps in Columbiana to spot hostile planes was discussed at a meeting of the civil defense organization in City Hall, Thursday evening, with the Union Bank building favored as a site for an observation tower if such an arrangement can be made.

To carry out the vigil of such a corps 24 hours a day seven days a week would require 168 volunteers each willing to give two hours a week of time. It was considered that a central location in town would be more available for volunteers, although the High School building and Eaton's corners, two miles east of town, were other sites considered.

Anyone interested in helping promote a ground observer corps is asked to Call Mrs. Lloyd Wonseller, phone 327, or Mrs. Raymond Cole, phone 2796.

It was decided to have two meetings a month, the second and fourth Thursdays, as a means of maintaining interest in defense. The next meeting will be in City Hall at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

IN THE ABSENCE of Defense Director George Seederly, the meeting Thursday evening was in charge of his assistant, John Homan, Leo McCarthy of Youngstown, who was to have spoken on mobile defense, could not be present.

Columbiana board of public affairs asks citizens to conserve water, during the dry, hot weather, not because of any shortage in the supply, but because of the inadequacy of the water softener plant, which is supplying about 380,000 gallons daily as compared with a normal capacity of 250,000 gallons. Water users are asked to refrain from lawn and garden sprinkling especially.

Rev. W. S. Longworth of Columbiana Methodist church will be assistant dean and teach "Christian Faith" during senior high week at Steubenville district Camp Aldergate, Leesville Lake, Carroll County next week. Attending from the Columbiana church will be Robert Biesheit and Lloyd Mackall.

LOCKERS in the corridors of the High School building are being repainted in a lighter color replacing the dark green and improving the lighting effect.

The Bible school of the Christian Church will have a picnic in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park, at 6 p.m. today.

Columbiana Jehovah's Witnesses announce a public lecture at the Harry Arkwright farm on Cook Road, south of town, at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Susan Ferrall, Jo Harrold, Lucy Keylor and Lana Keller, of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, spent this week at the denominational conference grounds along Lake Erie at Dunkirk, N. Y.

Sixteen members of the Gay Sisters' 4-H Club are spending the week-end at Woodlawn Lake, near Homeworth.

Members of Troop 1, Girl Scouts, Mrs. George Williamson, leader, will spend next week at Woodlawn Lake, near Homeworth, leaving Monday morning. Families of the campers will visit them Wednesday evening for a coverd dinner.

MRS. LEWIS WAY and Mrs. Paul Young will assist Mrs. Williamson through Wednesday, and Mrs. Glen Shasteen and Mrs. William Arn will assist the remainder of the week. Mothers of troop members will be at the camp daily to prepare meals.

The Friendly Class of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will have a swimming party at Woodlawn Lake this evening. Refreshments will be provided.

The Community Mothers' Club will have a picnic and swimming party at Firestone Park, Monday, beginning at 10 a.m., with covered dish dinner at noon. Ice cream and beverages will be provided. Mrs. Everett Hartley is president of the club.

Saunders, Meissner Head Local Squad

The Salem Pony League All-Stars will open their bid for Area 8 honors Monday night when they tangl with the Canton All-Stars at Harrisburg field just east of Canton on Route 62.

Game time is 6 p.m. The Salem All-Stars were selected previously by the Pony League managers. They have been holding practice sessions all week in preparation for the game.

Other teams in Area 8 are East Liverpool, Bridgeport, Canton, Martins Ferry, Mingo Junction, Tiltonsville.

John Heman, J., President of the American Legion Junior Baseball Committee, announced this morning that Pete Saunders, manager of the Salem Diner squad, and Henry Meissner, manager of the CIO 3816 outfit, would head the All-Stars.

Salem Diner and Bliss lead the league in members placed on the All-Star crew. Both Diner and Bliss have five members on the "dream team." There are three from CIO 3816 and one from Mullins to round out the squad.

Salem Diner will be represented by Jim Stewart, Jerry Buffington, Jerry Hendricks, Dale Swartz, and Bob Stallsmith. Mullins' lone representative is Larry Snyder.

Lonnie Waiwaiole, Mark Fenton, Bob Platt, Larry Brown and Joe Bryan were picked from Bliss while Darryl Dams, Dick Beall and Moe Meissner are the CIO 3816 participants.

Mullins, Eljer Beat Sekely, E. Furnace

In Little Major League play at Centennial Park Friday, Mullins took Electric Furnace 8-3 and Eljer rolled over Sekely 8-0.

Dick Early hurled a four-hitter in leading Mullins to his win over Furnace. The winners scored consistently throughout the game, although the deciding tally came home in the third.

Tony Dahms, Tim Birchfield, Duane McClaskey and Jim Solomon each had two hits to pace the winners. Birchfield smashed a home run in the first with one on.

In other play, Dick Loudon pitched and batted Eljer to its triumph over Sekely.

Loudon belted a two-run round tripper in the top of the first inning which was sufficient for victory. He shut out Sekely with three hits, striking out 10 men.

Ned Chappell, the loser, fanned 11 batters and gave up only five hits.

Redlegs Take 2; Yankees Chisox Win

JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's spectacular success in the tight one-run decisions has catapulted the Redlegs into third place today within striking distance of the fast-fading defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

In the last 15 games of which Manager Birdie Tebbetts' scrapers have won 11, the Reds have engaged in 11 one-run decisions—and they've won eight of them. During the entire season, Cincinnati has played in 38 such games, winning 23, and losing 15.

The Reds grabbed another close one yesterday as they swept a two-night doubleheader from Philadelphia's Phillies 7-6 and 9-4.

Yesterday's double win boosted the Reds into third place, seven games below the Dodgers who dropped their third straight to Milwaukee 6-1. The defeat spoiled the Dodgers' chances of picking up ground on the league leading New York Giants who remained 6½ in front despite their 5-4 loss to St. Louis. The Braves' triumph gave them undisputed possession of fourth place with Philadelphia dropping to fifth only a half game ahead of St. Louis.

The Yankees ran their winning streak to 11 games shading Baltimore 3-2. Chicago's third place White Sox remained four games off the pace defeating Washington 4-2.

In other games, Boston's Frank Sullivan pitched his second straight shutout, downing Detroit 3-0 with three hits and Chicago's Cubs came from behind to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 behind Bob Rush's six-hitter.

Gus Bell, who Manager Tebbetts claims is a better centerfielder than Willie Mays or Duke Snider, paced the Reds to their twin triumphs. He drove in eight runs, six in the second game with a pair of homers and a double. He currently is batting .341 and had driven in 74 runs. The Reds won the opener in the 10th on Chuck Harmon's single with the bases loaded.

A crowd of 41,778, second largest in Milwaukee history, watched Gene Conley handcut the Dodgers with five hits and strike out nine as he gained his eighth victory of the year and his third without a defeat over Brooklyn.

After dissipating a 4-1 lead in the eighth, the Cardinals roared back with a run in the ninth to nip the Giants.

Irv Noren's homer with two out in the ninth enabled the Yankees to tie the majors' longest winning streak of 11 set last May by Cleveland.

Held to two hits through six innings, the White Sox tied the score at 1-1 in the seventh and broke loose for three more runs against Dean Stone in the eighth to give reliever Sandy Consuegra his 11th victory.

tomorrow is the annual Soap Box Derby, scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday on the Damascus Rd. Blackburn Hill. A parade at 1 p.m. will start at the intersection of Broadway and State St. and proceed to the Georgetown Rd.

Over 50 drivers will compete. Route 62 from the Georgetown Rd. to Damascus will be closed from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday because the ramp for the racers will block the highway.

The other main sporting feature in Salem tomorrow will be the Salem Merchants' game with New Springfield at Centennial Park at 2:30.

THE LOCALS WILL strive to retain their slim two-game bulge over East Liverpool and three-game lead over New Waterford in the County League.

Manager Grady Odom announced this morning that Dick Wyss probably will get the pitching assignment although he has been suffering from a sore arm lately. If he can't go, Odom said that Jim Barnes would toe the slab.

Racing fans will have two big attractions tonight. Steve Lesick of Salem, the Ohio NASCAR point leader, will lead 35 drivers in a nine-event card at the Sharon Speedway.

A late model card, featuring a duel between two nationally-famous drivers, Bob Pronger and Fony Flock, will headline tonight's five-race program at the Canfield Speedway. Both tracks have scheduled time trials for 7 p.m. and the first race at 8:30.

The Salem Golf Club will have an 18-hole medal play tournament on tap tomorrow.

The Salem horseshoe pitching team will travel to Wadsworth tomorrow and is favored in the match. Salem was knocked out of first place last week for the first time in the Intra-City League and will be trying to regain that spot tomorrow.

For the first Sunday this season, the Salem Polo team will be idle. Its next game will be July 25 with Chagrin Valley here.

The local riders will play host to the nationally famous Detroit Ivory Ranger team at the Ellsworth Rd. field Wednesday, Aug. 4, in a special game, it was announced this morning.

Both the Salem Hunt Club and the Berlin Yacht Club have no activities listed for the week-end. Butler Grange's softball tilt with tomorrow, also has been postponed until next week.

With cooler temperatures predicted over the weekend, district lakes and pools are not expecting a rush weekend.

Also, the Ohio Wildlife Commission has forecast poor fishing conditions throughout the state over the weekend.

Stratton's Beats Bloomberg's 10-4

Bob Spiker's four-hitter led Stratton's Chevrolet to an 10-4 win over Bloomberg's in Class B action yesterday at Kelley Field.

A nine-run fourth-inning cinched the game for the winners. Dick Bauman, Lee Morrow and Larry Wolford had two hits apiece for the winners and Ron Bruckner registered two for Bloomberg's.

There are now only three teams, Stratton's, Bloomberg's and Sidingler's, remaining in the Class B league.

Deming Upsets Salem Tool 4-3

Leetonia, Beloit Beat Parker's, Amvets

One of the oddest misplays of the season occurred in city softball league action last night. Deming upset Salem Tool 4-3, Leetonia nipped Parker's 10-9 and Beloit dropped Amvets 13-5 in Girls play.

Deming 4, Salem Tool 3

Going into the last half of the seventh, as Tool was leading 3-2 with two out, Dick Wyss singled to center and went to second on an error. Ken Schoen's hit tied the score.

Dave Ehrhart was safe on an error which would have ended the game, and then, with two men on, Tool pitcher Bill Herman attempted to walk hard-hitting Eddie Duco. Herman, however, threw one over the catcher's head and the winning run came home.

Earlier in the game, Kirby Laughlin smashed a two-run homer for Tool, which had four errors during the night, while Dempsey Balsey hit a round-tripper for the winners. Ehrhart hurled a two-hitter.

Leetonia 10, Parker's 9

Leetonia increased its "A" lead to a game and a half over Parker's by coming up with three runs in the sixth.

Eck singled to right with the bases loaded in the sixth to tie the score and later crossed the plate on a wild pitch with the winning run.

Earlier, Gene Altomore of Leetonia and Stan Cosky of Parker's homered. Parker's held leads of 5-0 and 8-2 early in the game but couldn't hang on.

Warner and Eck of Leetonia and Tom Ehrhart of Parker's lashed out two hits apiece.

Beloit 13, Amvets 5

Beloit scored heavily in three big innings to coast home. Peg Carpenter tossed a six-hitter and struck out seven.

Sue Schwartzoff paced the winners with a single and home run. Peg Carpenter of Beloit and Joan Slaby and Janet Reeder of Amvets each had two safeties to lead the hitting.

Leskosky Eliminated From Carlings Open

Salem Golf Club pro Vince Leskosky was eliminated from the Carlings Open tournament at Cleveland's Mankiki Country Club yesterday.

The leader going into this afternoon's (second) round is Fred Haas of New Orleans with a 69-67-136. He has a two-stroke lead over George Fazio, Jerry Burke, Tommy Bolt, Chick Harbert, Al Besselink, and Jerry Barber, all of whom are tied for second at 138. Par for 18 holes is 72.

Ed Furgol, the National Open Champion, was eliminated yesterday with a 72-76-148, one over the qualifying standard.

Tribe Blasts A's 9-3 On 18-Hit Attack

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' dean, 35-year-old Bob Feller, is entrusted today with the slim half-game lead the Tribe holds on first place in the American League.

Bob, seeking his seventh victory and sixth in a row, will try to make it a three-game sweep over Philadelphia's Athletics before Cleveland moves on to Washington for a Sunday doubleheader and a Monday game as the second installment of the eastern swing.

In beating the Athletics 9-3 last night, the Tribe ended a hitting slump by whacking Arnold Portocarrero and two relief hurlers for 18 hits. Outfielder Al Smith got four of them, and Dave Philley and Sam Dente made three each. Philley hit his 11th homer with nobody on in the fourth.

Mike Garcia, apparently still bothered by a sore finger, had to leave after pitching six innings in which he gave up all eight of Philadelphia's hits and the Athletics' three runs. Ray Narleski pitched hitless ball in the last three frames. The victory was the 12th for Garcia against five setbacks.

The Tribe broke the game wide open in the fifth with three runs on five hits—a triple by Smith, a double by Bob Avila, a pop double by Al Rosen, a single by Philley and a double by Dente. Sonny Dixon took over the A's pitching at the start of the sixth.

Little League Schedule

Monday's Little Major League schedule finds Fishers playing VFW in the first game and Furnace and Mullins tangling in the second. Tuesday, VFW and Eljer are pitted in the first game and Furnace will battle Sekely in the nightcap.
